

Last request for supporting AIM For Seva
Sent August 6, 2014

Dear friend,

The operatic ballet event, Kalidasa's Meghadootam (Sat Aug 23 at 6 PM) as a celebration of the 2014 AIM for Seva fundraising is fast approaching. My sincere thanks to so many of you that have already donated to this worthy cause - we will be sending you event passes shortly.

If you have not yet donated, may I please make this one last appeal to you. I know you have many excellent causes to donate to. We are also well focused - providing free housing for poor and remotely based children in India, efficiently run and with a proven track record. Your trust in us is important to me. All details are in our very informative website aimforsewabayarea.org. Please visit it - the instructions for online, fully tax-deductible donations are given in it.

Or, if you prefer, write a check payable to AIM for Seva and mail it to me at 28615 Matadero Creek Ct, Los Altos Hills, CA 94022. Please also let me know how many passes for the Meghadootam show we can send you.

We are very anxious for you to enjoy this very classy, Broadway-like production that has been a year in making. They opened 10 days back in Chennai and the reviews from the discerning press and public was outstanding!. We are the next stop, on Aug 23 at the Chabot college Center for Performing Arts. You do not want to miss it. In making plans to be there, please note that snacks will be available for purchase before the show, and that we plan to begin promptly at 6 PM.

Sincerely, Vijay Kapoor
